1. The Società Montecatini is reportedly not attempting to create potential for the exploitation of nuclear energy. Of the numerous Montecatini plants, the one which offers the minimum of power needed is located in the lakes of Regia district in the Alps Adige.
2. Work on the hydroelectric power station at the three waterfalls of Guron, Giarzene and Lagundo is so far behind schedule that they will not be able to function in combination for several years. Even then they will not be able to furnish the 350,000 kw-hr needed to run cyclotron.
3. At present the technical staff of the Institute, under the direction of Prof. Manfredini is primarily concerned with the exploitation of bauxite and the production of lanthanates.
